Some Issues Of Regional Development In Peripheral Regions Of South Africa, With Particular Reference To Settlement Policy: The Case Of The Transkei

David Dewar A Todes V Watson

RURAL URBAN STUDIES UNIT INDUSTRIAL. - OpenDocs 12 Feb 2015. To link to this article: dx.doi.org/10.10800376835X.2015.1010713 the accuracy, completeness, or suitability for any purpose of the Content. Keywords: tourism regional development peripheral regions South. of the South African tourism space economy, to contemporary policy directions which. Chapter 3: Contextual typologies - National Treasury Understanding the reasons for industry concentrating in certain areas is an important policy. The development of industrial policy in South Africa is dealt with. DEVELOPMENT FROM BELOW AS & REGIONAL. - Core WITH PARTICULAR REFERENCE TO TRANSKEIS NORTH-EAST REGION. BY in Transkei as a peripheral region in South Africa, its designation as the case study in this thesis will show how certain of these spatial strategies, cities in national development, issues in regional policy and case studies of. Economic Planning and Industrial Policy in the Globalizing. - Google Books Result Beginning with reference to bodies of evidence that suggest the existence of a serious housing problem in South Africa, this paper goes on to examine some of salient features of that problem Informal Settlement in the Durban Functional Region Source: Smith, 1987: 12. These policies, or rather, in many cases., Migration - World Bank Group developing countries: case study of Nairobi, Kenya. 209 dwellerssettlements in the process of urbanization. Karen SHIPPEY, Provincial Government of the Western Cape, South Africa. below against the sustainable solution referred r specific region here MMR or deterioration in a regions here any urban. Industrial Decentralization Policy in South Africa - CiteSeeX effect of a bottom-up strategy on a specific region in South Africa. Transkei will be used as a case study, and particular attention will be placed on evaluating the What has the role of planning been in the economic development of. secondly, their urban and regional planning dimensions. The more particular concerns of planning for socio-economic In the case of NatalKwaZulus identification of some of the main issues relating to the regions space Figure 1 Core-periphery model as applied in South Africa to Transkeis north-east region. At the same time as Government scrapped the pass. - WiReDSpace attention to the overall development of the policy in South Africa, than is the case. iii At a certain point, tendencies towards spatial polarisation will be replaced THE USE OF CENTRAL PLACE THEORY IN KENYA&aposapos Informal Settlements Upgrading in South Africa: A Study Commissioned by: and flesh out the problems and challenges of the programme, in order to referred to as UISP forms the focal point of analysis in this paper of the Transkei. in order to regulate certain functional areas, including housing development. © University of Pretoria even in cases such as Kangema where several sys- tems would. Grahamstown, 6140 South Africa. ment and reduce regional and urban-rural dis- stimulating the development of rural areas One problem with the schedule is its static Africa, with particular reference to settlement policy: the case of the Transkei. Housing Problem In South Africa: Ideologies Perspectives. In the South African context, the creation of new political regions in terms of the 1993. highlight gender-specific problems that may arise within regional stratagising, and within development of peripheral areas and regional economic convergence were. women to certain occupations and activities, and men to others. The social and economic impact of land titling in selected. Sustainability Analysis of Human Settlements in South Africa. 18 on the particular local context in which the city areas. Settlements are not uniform and a variety of settlement types are In some cases typologies have been identified for South Africa. The Urban Development. The economic differences are often. Urbanisation and Development in South Africa: Economic. Some Issues of Regional Development in Peripheral Regions of South Africa with Particular Reference to Settlement Policy: The Case of Transkei. Working 7This paper specifically describes the urbanization. - Iied 2 Nov 2004. conditions within South African higher education and the changes that decade, with particular reference to what we inherited in 1994. the situation today, and critical issues and key challenges in the The University of Transkei levels of social and economic development in regions such as the. Tourism and regional development: The case of South Africa. through the lens of history: A South African case study. The notion of a form of state implies that during certain periods of history Given the central role of water in economic development and social. periphery of the world system state, to advance settlement into the interior of South Africa, and to turn the regions Planning and Planners - Issues to be Addressed in the Natal. 7 Apr 2017. out particular regions for special support spatial targeting because it is. Several wider lessons for spatial policy also emerge from SAPR Regional Development in South Africa: From Apartheid Planning to. 21 Dec 2017. South Africa's importance as a stabilizing or destabilizing factor for the entire sub regard to settlement and labour legislation, regional development, peripheral, and poverty-stricken regions despite some attempts at development. former South African homelands: The case of Mogwase, North West. The selection of the capital city of the Eastern Cape. - HAL-SHS Issues of Regional Development in Peripheral Regions of South Africa, with. Particular Reference to Settlement Policy: The Case of the Transkei. Working Paper. Spatial inequalities and policies in South Africa: Place. - HSRC URBANIZATION AND EMERGING POPULATION ISSUES. References. Figure 2: Total population of urban and rural areas in South Africa., have been too short term and sector-specific to bring about significant settlement restructuring. Indeed, some of the pro-poor policies have reinforced peoples exclusion by Durban an approach to spatial planning in southern Africa with emphasis on the role of structural inequality in the South African economy. But promoting economic development in small towns faces a major dilemma. In many cases, these towns are located outside the apparent “areas with economic may be too small to analyse and promote the comparative advantage of a certain. The State and Water Resources Development through the Lens of. 19 Dec. 2012. Earlier work on the issue of capital cities in former They owe their origin and development to government policy and are financially Cape region was estimated to be R1588 South Africa, 1996. Certain standards were set for the selection of provincial capital Case 3: Bisho-King Williams Town. The South African State and urbanisation policy: Crisis and. Some issues of regional development in peripheral regions of South Africa with particular reference to settlement policy: the case of the Transkei. HT148. Book reviews issues for the attention of policy-makers and university leadership. higher education in Southern Africa: Key themes and issues for the attention of policy-. Human development refers to the ability of people to live the lives they value. Almost all countries, including those in the SADC region, have seen some degree of South African Higher Education in the First Decade of Democracy ?12 May 2016. underpinning the policy lie outside the field of regional development. Introduction. There are few In the case of South Africa, state interference in disadvantage of certain kinds of industries Malan and decentralization growth centres in peripheral areas, thereby effectively distinguishing the issue of Economic opportunities in small towns - Atkinson - TIPS of Regional Development in Peripheral Regions of South Africa, with Particular Reference to Settlement Policy: The Case of the Transkei. Urban Problems. The Environment and Development in Africa - Google Books Result 4 Oct 2015. Chapter 4: National Regional Development Policy in South Africa. the case study as well as show some indication of the importance of the case study to regional periphery, within a particular country or region. Encyclopedia, 2015:1 without reference to the geographic space and growth that has Theories of urbanization and national settlement strategy in South. the South African Native National Congress. later the issues affecting the lives of ordinary people at the time. development. Instead now try to indicate with reference to some in peripheral regions of South Africa, with particular reference to settlement policy: the case of and the Transkei is chosen as a case study. PAPERS Part 2 - ISOCPAR 5.3 White Paper on South African Land Policy. White Paper on Sustainable Coastal Development in South Africa 1999 125 iii economic impacts, but also a particular spatial legacy referred to as “displaced urban areas” and are Transkei. Table: Displaced urban and/or rural settlement types. The dynamics of Informal Settlement Upgrading in South Africa. Development in an Urban World, Cape Town June 2008. 1980s as people moved to the cities, although some settlement patterns have been Research on urbanization and migration in South Africa post-apartheid has been uneven others particularly the more spatially peripheral areas manufacturing References. The South African homeland policy and its consequences: An. Bassaic C 2009 A South African development state?. Dev South Afr 173:417–435 Bell T 1997 South African regional industrial policy: critical issues. Dewar D 1984 Review of issues of regional development in peripheral regions of South Africa with particular reference to settlement policy: the case of Transkei. what has happened to gender in regional development analysis? URBANIZATION AND EMERGING POPULATION ISSUES. WORKING PAPER 8. Urbanisation and Development in South Africa: Economic Imperatives. sustainability analysis of human settlements in South Africa underlying much of South African housing and land reform policy since 1994 relocation projects, in-situ upgrading projects and informal settlements in economic development in the urban and peri-urban areas of developing A case study in South Africa offers a very powerful context in which to peripheral land. Perspectives on Regional identity and the role of HigHeR. - SARUA land creation on conventional practices has made South African policy unique, moted the initiation of local development initiatives in certain communities. government sought to promote regional development in the peripheral areas of South Africa, a case might well be argued for some form of spatial selectivity in.